

KILKELLY

*“Good, pure and honest music
– as rare as hen’s teeth.”*

– Gerry Cinnamon

Narrative and character driven lyrics, full of yearning, misgivings and unfortunate down-and-outs. Part of Berlin’s thriving “Dark Folk” scene, the Irishman uses poetic phrasing, devilish wit, and melodic fingerpicking to deliver an unforgettable performance.

He quietly released his debut EP in April, 2017 in Berlin, followed by an Irish tour that same year, and European Tour in 2018. Recently joining forces with newly established Famous Gold Watch Records, Berlin, Kilkelly will play Galway Fringe, Festival as well as Liverpool Irish Festival in 2019.

Kilkelly’s much anticipated debut album ‘The Prick and the Petal’ is set for release September, 2019.
